

Bundaberg Brewed Drinks

Warehouse upgrade and distribution centre

BBD is one of Queensland's leading beverage manufacturers and exporters. Their traditionally brewed soft drinks are exported to New Zealand, the United States, the United Kingdom, Asia and the Middle East.

Bundaberg Brewed Drinks are strongly committed to master planning their facility to support continuous business growth. This warehouse upgrade was designed to increase warehousing space, catering for increased production volumes.

Project scope

Wiley delivered three fast-tracked projects to enhance and expand the company's existing product handling and distribution:

- Re-supporting and extending a truck loading canopy roof to remove building columns so that two B-double trucks could be loaded at the same time (instead of one)
- Constructing an overhead conveyor bridge, which was 52m long, with a clear span of 23m above the truck loading area. This bridge is now used for conveying all finished product cartons to a new robotic palletiser, ensuring forklifts are no longer required to cross the truck loading area to take full pallets to the warehouse
- Removing an internal warehouse column for more efficient use of warehouse space

Business value to client

Drawing on extensive brownfield and project management experience, Wiley fast-tracked three projects, ensuring continuous operations for BBD. Wiley adapted the existing building structure to provide the client with a more flexible and open logistics space. These projects improved the company's product handling and distribution to meet current and future demand.

When Wiley created a master plan for our new facility, they opened my eyes to another ten years of business opportunity.

With Wiley, it's never just about bricks and mortar. They not only understood the demands of our existing markets but helped us accommodate changing customer preferences and our expanding export platform for years to come.

All the knowledge our business needed was there under one roof. And then they delivered the entire project without disruption.

With the value Wiley adds to each project, it's not just about building a better building. It's about building a better business. That was the moment I saw into the future.
